The legislature of Nova Scotia has been dissolved and the date of the general election fixed for Wednesday, June 14, with nominations on June 7. The legislature has run its course since the dissolution of the parties at dissolution was 33 Liberals and 5 Conservatives.

It is to be noted that the alignment of parties will not be materially altered at the polling booth. The Conservative party has established notable results in progressive administration and advanced legislation. The programme of completing the railway system of the province will go on, notwithstanding the setback after a thorough investigation as to the best methods adapted to complete a vigorous campaign, but there has no definite policy and is actually going into the field unguided.

In 1882 the Liberals elected the provincial legislature and formed a government under the premiership of the late William T. Murray. The party was strongest in 1886, W. S. Fielding, who retained the premiership until 1898, when he became Minister of Finance.

COUNCIL CHOOSE COMMISSIONERS

D. R. Fraser and S. W.
Candy Are Appointed
Last Night.

Appointed by the council last evening members of the board of commissioners, S. W. Candy and D. R. Fraser will take their seats at the next regular meeting and from now on will represent the city treasury the end of each month the sum of $200. Ald. McDonald, the chairman of the committee which recommended these appointments suggested a salary of $10 per month, but Ald. Grindley said he thought it would be sufficient and the larger sum was decided upon. The motion appoining the commissioners was carried by Ald. Mr. Innis and seconded by Ald. Miller. It received the support also of Ald. Grindley, Ald. Oliver and Ald. McRae.

Commissioners Not Necessary. — Ald. Kinnear, chairman of the council committee, who recommended these appointments suggested a salary of $10 per month, but Ald. Grindley said he thought it would be sufficient and the larger sum was decided upon. The motion appoining the commissioners was carried by Ald. Mr. Innis and seconded by Ald. Miller. It received the support also of Ald. Grindley, Ald. Oliver and Ald. McRae.

Commissioners Not Necessary. — Ald. Kinnear, chairman of the council committee, who recommended these appointments suggested a salary of $10 per month, but Ald. Grindley said he thought it would be sufficient and the larger sum was decided upon. The motion appoining the commissioners was carried by Ald. Mr. Innis and seconded by Ald. Miller.

Major Armstrong Gave Reasons. — Major Armstrong, Ald. Landy, and Ald. Miller gave the reasons of the public service for the first time the reasons given were that the present commissioners are overworked and that they had failed to order the type of machinery for the power plant which the council directed in order.

The dispute concerning the merits respectively of 1200 K.W. turbines and 2000 K.W. turbines was referred to the manager by each of the speakers and the commissioners stood alone in their recommendations, being opposed by three supplanters and supported by three supporters, but by the commissioners, proved that it was more advisable for the welfare of the respective departments and the public good.

In this connection we beg to point out that the public utilities are, in fact, better off, now, than they were when the commissioners were in our efforts to keep on improving them. We realize fully that, that is all we can do, but we have lost the money by providing the funds for the purchase of the additional machinery, and we have lost the demand, and that it was doubtful whether it would be possible to install the machinery in time to meet the demand, and to early carry it.

Grindley said he thought it would be sufficient and the larger sum was decided upon. The motion appoining the commissioners was carried by Ald. Mr. Innis and seconded by Ald. Miller.

The report, which is signed by Commissioners Boulet and Butebach, declared that there was a necessity for the appointment of additional commissioners.

"There is no necessity for the appointment of additional commissioners, because there is no comparison in work in our hands. There are no anticipated, and we feel fully competent, as well as to frame and supervise the public service efficiently.

"No enquiry was ever made from us until the passage of the above resolution as to the necessity or the advisability of turning the personnel of the commission over to our judgment, there is nothing in connection with the transaction of the business that would warrant such action."

"With reference to that part of your inquiry concerning the public service, we have visited the city's public utilities during the winter, and we beg to state that we are in contact with the city's public utilities, this being one of the principal duties of the commissioners, but a day passes without bringing us in absolute contact with all of them. The headquarters and branches of the public utilities are, in fact, better off, now, than they were when the commissioners stood alone in their recommendations, being opposed by three supplanters and supported by three supporters, but by the commissioners, proved that it was more advisable for the welfare of the respective departments and the public good.

OTTAWA HOUSE HAS ADJOURNED

Obstruction Tactics of Opposition Result in Delay of Grain Bill.

OTTAWA, May 18.—After a long session in the Senate, where an obstructionist majority delayed a supply bill for three hours and a half, the opposition was defeated and the bill was passed.

It was agreed that the bill would be put to a vote on Monday.

Mr. Oliver said that one minister had told him that the opposition would not oppose the bill.

In conclusion, Dr. Schaffner said that the opposition had been beaten.

Glen Campbell spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. Campbell said that the opposition had put the case for the farmers in a nutshell.

They had asked for many things, but the opposition had given them little.

George Bradbury also argued that the bill was in the interest of the farmers and that there should be more time for a consideration.

REPORT CONTRADICTED

Story That 5,000 People Were Starving on the Coast of Labrador Is Pronounced False.

BOSTON, May 18.—A report that 5,000 people were starving on the coast of Labrador was contradicted yesterday by Dr. Sir Wilfrid T. Grenfell, the medical missionary whose field of labor includes the North-Western Provinces and Labrador.

Dr. Grenfell explained that there was some starvation, but that the people in the small section of the Labrador coast.

At the evening sitting, Hon. Mr. Lester, the postmaster general, told the post-office officials was given the third reading. The minister stated that the bill was introduced by Dr. Schaffner, who was under suspicion when the bill was introduced.

At the morning sitting an effort was made to pass the grain bill, which reached its third reading.

Mr. Neely, the opposition member who gave the bill its third reading, said they destined it to fall under the amendment of the discussion on the condition that other bills might be disposed of.

At the evening sitting the grain bill, Dr. Neely (Blundell) thought that it would provide considerable relief.

The matter was urgent, and even if the house gave the bill a second reading, it was not certain that it would be voted on again.

At the morning sitting the bill was disposed of.

Opposition Obstruction.

Mr. Neely said that if it had been for the obstructive tactics of the opposition, the bill would have been voted on again.

That is, that the opposition members that the member for Moose Jaw dragged in the question about the entente.

The first step was to get a hearing at the many corners of the grain trade.

The first financial statement of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company should show a natural surplus on fair values of more than 100 per cent of the capital stock of the Company, and should give the shares of the Company an immediate market value of $200. This is the most important business opportunity this community has ever had, and public spirit should insure the complete financing of the enterprise within ten days.

ARTICLE NUMBER TWELVE

This article concludes the series which has been published from day to day in all of the daily papers of Edmonton during the past two weeks.

The aim of these articles has been educative. The one purpose has been to inform the public as to just what the Edmonton Portland Cement Company means. Every essential fact of this great enterprise has been fully and fairly stated. And the people of Edmonton and vicinity now realize the meaning and importance of this institution which will undoubtedly be the most important Industrial Enterprise, in Western Canada.

What the Edmonton Portland Cement Company Means

The Edmonton Portland Cement Company means an addition to the business of this city of at least $1,000,000 per year.

It means keeping at home that vast sum of money which is now being sent to Eastern cement mills and paid to railroad companies for freight charges on cement which is now shipped to the Edmonton district from Ontario and elsewhere.

It means a local supply for a market which is now paralyzing the construction operations of this entire district by reason of a cement famine. There is not a bag of Portland Cement in Edmonton today. Work now under construction would immediately absorb 25,000 barrels in twenty-four hours. At Calgary which has two cement mills, work is standing still and 300 men are idle on wages at $3.00 per day, because there is not a bag of Portland Cement to be had in that city. The leading dealers in Portland Cement both at Edmonton and Calgary, Messrs. Gorman, Clancey & Grindley, Ltd., have authorized the statement that they need 25,000 barrels of Portland Cement at Edmonton and 49,000 barrels at Calgary for most urgent orders now in their hands which they cannot fill.

The Edmonton Portland Cement Company is the product of two facts that are purely local:

Local Conditions Remarkably Advantageous.

One is the discovery of the greatest marl deposit on the American Continent and an inexhaustible bed of the very best cement clay within five miles of each other.

The other fact is construction work in the City of Edmonton and to the North and West of here which is only just beginning and which will consume at least 200,000 barrels of Portland Cement per year indefinitely.

The local market price of Portland Cement is fixed by the cost of production at Eastern mills plus freight charges to this district. At present it is about $3.12, and contractors are begging for cement at that price. It will never be lower.

It remains only to be said that if this situation existed in Winnipeg or any other city where the progressive spirit is more active and where splendid commercial opportunities are more quickly appreciated, the enterprise would have been financed within a week. People would have jumped at the chance.

Edmonton Needs the Enterprise.

Edmonton needs this institution far more than it needs any other single enterprise. Everyone knows that this city should go to a population of 100,000 within five years. The amount of building which this means is something colossal. It means the building here of two other cities as large as this. The making of Edmonton will require more cement than the Edmonton Portland Cement Company can produce.

The whole proposition sums itself up in a single sentence the Edmonton Portland Cement Company can manufacture cement for 78 cents a barrel, sell its output at its mill door for $3.05 and, running at twenty per cent. below its capacity, it can earn for its shareholders a dividend of 40 per cent. on its capital stock.

There is no question of the market. One firm will readily take the entire output of the mill.

The engineer is now on the ground and the work preliminary to construction is now under way. The work will now be pressed as rapidly as possible and it is expected that the plant will be in operation in May of next year.

First Financial Statement will Double Value of Shares.

The financing of the enterprise should be completed within 30 days and when the Company begins operations in May next its balance sheet should be about as follows:

STATEMENT.

Assets.

Cash on hand for working capital	$ 170,000
Plant at cost	630,000
Rail materials purchased and sufficient for the manufacture of at least 12,500,000 barrels of cement at 20 cents per barrel	2,500,000
	$3,300,000

Liabilities.

Capital stock	1,500,000
Surplus to shareholders	1,800,000

This is about the basis on which the shares should then go on the market—which should give them a value of at least $200, which value would be well supported by the fact that the Company can pay a dividend of 40 per cent.

Shares are now offered to the public at $100, payable on convenient terms. To the investor this means that upon an investment of $100 he will have in one year a value of $200 and thereafter a permanent income of 40 per cent. or 40 dollars a share.

TO R

NORTH EDMONTON'S GREAT GROWTH IN THREE YEARS AND THE REASONS

Large Population Has Grown Up Around the Packing Plant of the Swift's Canadian Company and is Now Being Served by Up-to-Date Stores. Town Council a Progressive Body, Which is Looking After the Needs of the Residents of the Suburb.

"There is a reason in all things." There is a reason for the suburbs of North Edmonton at the northeast corner of the city.

The reason is a big one. Here, where the C. N. R. and G. T. P. run side by side, a great railway system has been established. The J. Y. Griffith company, limited, secured a fine, long, level stretch of land between these two great railways, thus facilitating the importation of the supplies required for the packing plant of Alberta and the distribution of the manufactured products to the towns and cities of the province. The connection at Edmonton with the C. P. R. allows transhipment over the main bearing towns of British Columbia.

The business has grown and the outfit has increased. The meat from Alberta's live stock has been proved so recently that the packing plant of the Swift's Canadian Company, limited, is now the largest in Canada. This means a power behind the plant which will bring further developments in the future.

Official Staff Increase from 3 to 30

About two years ago there was an office staff of three men located at North Edmonton, but upon the Bulletin's visit a few days ago there were fifteen officials working around the office. This is an increase of about 120 per cent. The staff is essential and can well taken as a fair indication of the growth of this important institution. The result of the strengthening of this important link which binds the tiller of the soil with the manufacturer and distributor of the miners and lumbermen of the mountains multiply in numbers, and in consequence of the fact that food must be found somewhere for these hard-working hungry men. With the rapid development of new industrial centers along the new trans-continental lines westward, the demand for manufactured meat products is largely increased. Even now the demand is increasing rapidly. The steadily growing demand will compel a continual growth and expansion of the plant.

Manual Increase All Around

The increased settlement and the more rapid growth of the town and its farming field tend to raise the supply of live stock towards a level with the demand for the products.

The more fat stock the farmer manufactures on his farm, the more fat he has to sell to the agricultural community, hence a larger business all around, for the result is more sales and more houses in the town and citizens grow.

As demand and supply increase, so does the number of people in the connecting industry of manufacturing, the fat products of the farms, the meat products of the citizens of the towns and cities. The packing plant business is the reason for the growth of North Edmonton, so as that business grows so will its business grow with the growth of the town. The cost of living is at the rate of $250 a month and the valuable salary list of the official staff will be increased each year, increasing the business and population of North Edmonton.

The same railway facilities may induce other industries to locate in this vicinity. The city is arranging for the location of a large saw mill in the southern portion of the east half of section 12, just west of the line between the Fort Trail and the southern boundary of the section. These buildings will be very conveniently located, being crossed by both C. N. R. and G. T. P. and just to the north of the Swift's Canadian plant.

Soap factories and tanneries will only be a matter of time, for they could easily be located near the manufacturing the by-products of the packing plant.

Local Products Utilized

While speaking of by-products, it might be mentioned that the Swift's Canadian Company, limited, utilizes a large quantity of fertilizer from their plant at North Edmonton to British Columbia. The fertilizer is made from the timber in the orchards of the fruit belt. There is no waste about such fertilizer, for it is used for manure or something. To the student of chemistry it would be interesting to follow the fertilizer through the soil of Alberta's fertile prairie through its various transformations from the soil to the plants, to the fruit of a packing plant, to the refuse from a packing plant, used as a fuel for the heating plant, and so onward and returning over the mountains again in the end of an animal cycle with the soil of Alberta, and begin another long cycle of life and death changes. In nature there is absolutely lost.

Local Produce the Yukon

Many remember the Klondike rush which made Edmonton famous. Edmonton is still the gateway to the Klondike, for the Swift's Canadian Company, limited, has made a sale of $60,000 worth of supplies to the Klondike Gold Storage company, limited.

This order will be shipped in a special car, and will be sent to the port of Vancouver, and from there north by the steamers of the Pacific Coast Line, to be distributed to the districts of retail markets in the Yukon country.

An indication of the value of such a market is the fact that a community of miners in Dawson City, Alaska, is quoted as saying that each day they receive a sum of $100,000 worth of goods from the Swift's Canadian company. This is one explanation for the growth of the town, and the members of the board of trade urge the citizens to patronize home industry.

The Swift Canadian company, limited, issue a weekly market letter, listing the local price for live stock, the exhibition grounds, the chairs, John O'Donnell and Ed. Tracy, with Arthur Lord as chief financial treasurer. The district was originally a wild and sparsely populated area, but the tributary towns, business, industry and population will multiply in the future, and the growth of the property will drive manufacturing establishments to the outskirts. Companies will be attracted to the area by the new industries till the Great Western Railway has reached the Hudson Bay port for many miles in every direction. But the C. N. R. and G. T. P. have already established Edmonton as a favored suburb.

At present school is held in temporary buildings, while pupils in standards I to V are in charge of Miss Emma Champion and Miss Fannie Price, who are in charge of the new 100,000 stable brick walls and cement floor and ceiling. The company can well afford to pay this price.

Two 75,000 gallon lard tanks have been erected lately. The company has also built a water system. The City water is run into a tank where Jack Frost makes it solid, thus assuring a constant supply of water to the houses for use in the winter transportation.

Trade Outlook

From the top of the large six-story building there is a fine outlook over the surrounding country for many miles to the south and west of Edmonton and Strathcona, and the cities of Edmonton and Strathcona are always in the distance. The car line and roadways lead from the city to the village of North Edmonton, which is divided into two sections, part on the south and part on the track opposite the packing plant, where the tracks meet the roadways goes over the C. N. R. and G. T. P. leading towards their shops at Caldecott.

For the sawmills and lumber yards the old Fort Saskatchewan trail is the other part of North Edmonton is a good road, and the lumber houses are grouped along this old trail. Back to the west of the town is the village of the Francophone Frans. A string of farmers' teams are waiting their turn to unload logs or delivering cattle at the stock yards at the rear of the packing plant. The teams from the city come along the G. T. P. or C. N. R. track, bringing carloads of feed and grain, and return with the car loaded with dressed or cured meats, and the variegated teams are waiting to unload the yards to the northwest in the site of the proposed union stock yards, where the stock yards will be built from the thousands of farms of Central Alberta with cattle and sold by the railroads.

Swift Athletes

The athletic inclinations of the Swift's Canadian Company, limited, find a field ground to the north of the track and the remains of the skating rink, and the football team has said that this year the team from North Edmonton will known for its strength, for the players are mostly employees of the Swift's Canadian company.

The record of the Swift fire brigade is evidenced by the blackened remains of some houses, which had been destroyed by fire, and the quick turn out of the fire brigade from the packing plant. An organization of the Swift's Canadian company is attached to the city waterworks.

Looking over Victoria Place, the sportsman finds a fine field ground to the north of the track and the remains of the skating rink, and the football team has said that this year the team from North Edmonton will known for its strength, for the players are mostly employees of the Swift's Canadian company.

The farmers are pretty well down on their teams and wheat is looking fine in their fields.

D. J. McCullum, who has gone to Edmonton on a visit.

Frank McLean, who is repairing his jewelry shop and pool room which was damaged by the recent fire.

Mandates, May 18.
